Heaven - Calum Scott | Chord & Lyrics

Title Song: Heaven Singer: Calum Scott key: D Tuning: standart

```
[Intro]
D Dsus4 D Dsus4
[Verse 1]
   I used to count the stars in the sky
Now I count the ones in your eyes
I used to think that my paradise
Was somewhere waiting on the other side
But you, ooh-ooh
Take me higher than I've been
        Bm
Laying hands on my skin
It's true, ooh-ooh
          Dsus4
Nothing compares to you...
[Chorus]
             G
So tell me why, what good is life?
If we're all just waiting to dance in the sky
I'm already there, here in your eyes
                         A/C#
                                       Bm
                D
We climb the gates every time that you lie down n?xt to me
                                D
I rest in peac?, they say it's better, but how could that be?
If everyone had a love like us
They wouldn't call that place above, "Heaven"
[Verse 2]
G
   Waking up to you feels like a pinch-myself moment

G
   If we're only here for a while, I wanna spend
                   G
All of it holding you, ooh-ooh
Take me higher than I've been
Got me questioning everything I knew, ooh-ooh
                 Dsus4
'Cause nothing compares to you...
[Chorus]
So tell me why, what good is life?
If we're all just waiting to dance in the sky
I'm already there, here in your eyes
                         A/C#
                                       Bm
We climb the gates every time that you lie down n?xt to me
                                D
I rest in peac?, they say it's better, but how could that be?
            G
If everyone had a love like us
They wouldn't call that place above, "Heaven"
[Bridge]
Bm
  Nothing comes, nothing comes close to this
Looking up, looking up even if it exists
My Heaven is on your lips
[Chorus]
So tell me why, what good is life?
If we're all just waiting to dance in the sky
I'm already there, here in your eyes
                D
                                       Bm
We climb the gates every time that you lie down n?xt to me
I rest in peac?, they say it's better, but how could that be?
